- Redesigned Website Features Product and Company Information, Product Promotions and the Latest News and Events.
- United to Give Away $500 RedMax Backpack Blower to Celebrate New Website; Entries Now Being Accepted Online.

SALT LAKE CITY (July 7, 2010) - United Service and Sales, Utah's plow and mower experts, announced today the launch of its newly designed website, www.plowandmowerexperts.com. Redesigned with the customer in mind, the website is easy to navigate and features company news and information, monthly promotions, used equipment listings and details on the United Service and Sales line of high-quality snow removal, lawn and landscaping products and services.

"We are pleased to give our customers a new platform for viewing our products and keeping updated on our latest news and promotions," commented Richard Cretsinger, United Service and Sales President and CEO. "It is exciting to be able to reach out to our clients through our new and improved website."

Recognizing the importance of a robust online resource for its customers, United Service and Sales created the website with useful and easy-to-access information. The website's user-friendly features and comprehensive new and used product information serves as an important guide to the products and services United Service and Sales offers.

To kick-off the launch of its new website, United Service and Sales will be holding a drawing for one website visitor to win a $500 RedMax backpack blower. To enter the drawing, visitors must fill out an entry form located on the www.plowandmowerexperts.com home page. The winner of the RedMax backpack blower will be announced at the United Service and Sales customer appreciation event on September 16, 2010.
